

What counts as income on my Marketplace application?

When applying for or updating your Marketplace application on HealthCare.gov, we'll ask you to enter your income.

- If you have income below a certain amount, you may qualify for different programs or get help paying for health coverage. We need to know about your income to see what you qualify for.
- Your application may be pre-filled and show your income for the year. We get this information from a consumer reporting agency and will ask if you'll make the same amount next year. Or, it may ask you to estimate what you think you'll make.
- If you think your income will be different than previous years, we'll ask if you expect changes or a different kind of income that you didn't get before.
- If you're not sure about your income or how it will change, enter your best guess or select "I don't know." You'll need to update your application if something changes later. It's important to update your income because changes may affect the coverage or savings you're eligible for.

When adding your income, include income from:

- Jobs. Visit HealthCare.gov/help/income-from-your-job.
- Social Security (taxable and non-taxable).

- Rental or royalty.
- Farming or fishing.

For more information, or to find out what expenses you can deduct, visit HealthCare.gov/help/add-other-income and see the "Self employment income" section.
